CONTENTS

ARTICLES

- Internationalization of Law to Meet Needs of Internationalization of Life Charles S. Rhyne 1
- The President of the World Peace Through Law Center presents his view of the accomplishments of the Abidjan World Conference on World Peace Through Law. The author discusses several Conference resolutions involving such issues as Detente, Universal Human Rights, Model Laws, and War.
- Freedom of Movement and the Travel Document
Daniel C. Turack 8
- The relaxation of passport requirements evidenced by multi-lateral and bilateral agreements points up the trend of international recognition of the right to travel. Recognizing that international mobility is limited by domestic national policies, the author surveys the current status of travel document requirements prevalent in Europe and the Scandinavian countries.
- Permanence of Powers: Commission of the European Communities v. France
Peter N. Brush 43
- Of the three European Communities, Euratom and its subsidiary institution, the Supply Agency, are the least understood. Commission of the European Communities v. France presents a dramatic advance for the proposition that Europe is moving toward a federal system in which power is to be exercised by the European Communities. Analyzing the recent decision by the European Court of Justice, the author traces the history and evolution of Euratom to its present status of permanence.
- Spitzbergen: Jurisdictional Friction over Unexploited
Oil Reserves J. Peter A. Bernhardt 61
- As a concomitant of the Versailles Peace Settlement discussions, the United States, Norway, and several other countries entered into a treaty which dealt in part with the right of the High Contracting Parties to exploit the mineral reserves of the Archipelago of Spitzbergen. Given the world energy crisis and the petroleum reserves on the continental shelf of Spitzbergen, the author presents an in-depth evaluation of the United States' rights under this treaty.

Private Versus State Arbitration in Latin America
Lionel Summers 121

As a sequel to his article entitled Arbitration in Latin America which appears in 3 CALIF. W. INT'L L.J. 1 (1972), the author comments upon a survey of the members of the Council of the Americas. In this article the author attempts to determine empirically the present extent of private versus State arbitration in Latin America as well as to submit several proposals for the expansion of this form of mediation in the Latin American countries.
