CONTENTS

ARTICLES

- The Customary International Law Doctrine of Humanitarian Intervention: Its Current
Validity under the U.N. Charter
Jean-Pierre L. Fonteyne 203

Recognizing the conflict between human rights and even limited unilateral intervention, the author traces the evolution of humanitarian intervention as a doctrine of international law. Based upon an extensive historical evaluation, substantive, procedural, and preferential criteria are set out as guides for the limited use of unilateral intervention within the framework of the United Nations Charter.

- Waiver of Deportation: An Analysis of Section
241(f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act
Lewis A. Wenzell & Robert J. Kolodny 271

This article presents a thorough examination of the plight of the illegal entrant-alien who seeks waiver of formal deportation under section 241(f) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The authors, after pointing up inconsistent judicial interpretations of this section, propose legislation to ameliorate the inequitable treatment of these aliens.
