

BOOKS RECEIVED

FRIENDS BUT NO ALLIES. By Stephen C. Neff. New York, New York: Columbia University Press, 1991. Pp. 345. $37.50.

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS, CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, AND HUMAN RIGHTS. By John S. Gibson. Westport, Connecticut: Greenwood Press, Inc., 1991. Pp. 288. $45.00.

ODIOUS DEBTS. By Patricia Adams. Toronto, Canada: Probe International, 1991. Pp. 252. $19.95.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

The CALIFORNIA WESTERN INTERNATIONAL LAW JOURNAL welcomes the submission of unsolicited manuscripts concerning international legal affairs. Manuscripts should be submitted to the Executive Lead Articles Editor, CALIFORNIA WESTERN INTERNATIONAL LAW JOURNAL, 350 Cedar Street, San Diego, California 92101. Conformity with the following format will be appreciated:

1. FORM. Manuscripts must be typed and double spaced. Footnotes should be submitted separately and conform to the same format as the text. Allow margins of at least one inch on all sides of the typed pages.
2. CITATIONS. Textual and citation form should comply substantially with The Bluebook (15th ed. 1991).
3. STYLE. The article and footnotes should be up-to-date at the time of submission. The JOURNAL requires articles that are timely and provide an original in-depth analysis of a topic rather than a summary of previous research efforts.
4. VITA. The title page should include the author's full name, his or her academic and professional affiliations, and the complete address and phone number of the person with whom correspondence can be made.
5. ABSTRACT. Each manuscript should be summarized in an abstract of not more than 150 words.

Manuscripts will be approved for publication in the JOURNAL only after a Lead Article Board review. If any part of the paper has been published elsewhere, the author must include this information at the time of submission. Submitted manuscripts will not be returned unless requested.

The CALIFORNIA WESTERN INTERNATIONAL LAW JOURNAL will do everything possible to ensure prompt review of submitted manuscripts. It will, therefore, accelerate the reviewing process considerably if manuscripts conform to JOURNAL style.